THE BRITANNIA WINS

In the Thirteenth Contest with the Vigilant.

PINZANCI July 28 Fine weather even though the sky was clouded up a bit, and the wind light from the south east, greeted the crowds of enthislastic ynchrsmen and sight seers who journeyed to this plotureeque spot to see the American vache Vigilana and the Prince of Wales beautiful boat Britannia struggle for the supremacy of the seas. A light swell prevailed in the bay and out on the Atlantic but it did not dampen the ardor of the yachtsmed in the least. The prizes contended for to day were the Mount's Bay prize, $300, and a silver cup valued at $75 for the winner, and $125 for the second boat. The Vigilant, Britannia and Corsair started it was expected that the Satan its would also start, but the yacht, which has been here since Wednesday last, was not quite in trum and left yes terday afternoon for Fulmouth, where the next series of rances will occur.

The run over the first leg was a reach to bort with the Vigilant the weather in bertil. Just before the start and when the yachts were jocken ing for the weather in bertil. Just before the start and when the yachts were jocken ing for the weather sidela coilision between the Vigilant and Britannia was averted only by the narrowest of margins. The Vigilant lay between the Corsair and Britannia limit the manouevering to get ucross the line the little Corsair got closer to the American boat than was comfortable and 'Cupi Haff had to gybe his bout to clear her and in doing so he got very close to the Britannia.

The Recomption

of the Vigilant Just grazing the min smill of the big Faglish cutter. The wind just suited the Britannia to day and she kept increasing the lead she had gained at the start. She rounded the first mark at Mouschole point well in the lead. At 11 the little breeze became even fainter 18th Britannia continued to gain on the next leg and they turned the mark at Portsleven as follows. Britannia 13 14 40, Vigilant, 12 18 25

The spinnikers were set for the run home to the commodore a boat and the Vigilant immediately began to make up some of her loss ground.

The wind had shifted to the south making it a beat on the first leg of the second round. The Britannia stood ofto the eastward on the starboard tack crossing the bows of the Vigilant which had gone on the port tack in rounding the home mark. The Vigilant had then went about, standing over to the eastward to mile land but astern of the cutter.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Consider it serious

London, July 28 The Morning Post says War between China and Japan is not to be lightly regarded It is a question of I urepean importance. Any alteration of the feadatory position of Corea must adversely affect China's guarantee to Great Britain in 1886.

Referring to the Port Hamilton question, the writer affilms that should Russla seek to alter her position or vary the guarantee in question Great Britain would cutatinly laive to re-occupy Port Hamilton! As regards the poisim of suzerainty the Post says the weight of vidence is decidedly against Japan.

The Dully News says If it were a duel to the death victory must eventually sets with Chim. It would then resemble the struggle between the northern and southern States of North Americs; that quarrel admitted no compromises. Everybody knew that given equal confage and resolution numbers and solid resonced must decide. In many respects the present case is different. There can only be a short piessope at arms—by the result of which the civilized world outside can test the progress that China and Jupan layer and call the art of wir.

The Dully Chroniele says. We hope that the European statesman will watch carefully for the first opportunity to intervene and then bring the whole weight of their combined prestige to bear in favor of a peapeful seittiment. A Medical writers claim that the successful remeay for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote seres and ulderated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Orean Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing less has over done, and both physicians and puttents freely concede this fact. Our drugglets kiep it.

Why is This Thus? the Command still manufests a stringe reluctance to give Mr. Simpson acy editorial andorsement. With the xciption of the brickest possible men tion of the action of the District Comn ittee in its news columns, our contini ceary has zeniously refranced from any Husion to the Democratic Congressional uni on severely alone. Does not the oston and New I ngland know that the o ted States is the second largest shipladding and ship-owning nation in the world? that our tonuage to-day is tweet as large as it was in 1810 almost a million tons larger than in 1880, estimated to be equal to more than twice the com bacd tonnige of Norway and Sweden to three times that of Gurmany, five lines that of France and six things that of Italy? It is this same 'peddling in terest whose constructors have just pro duced the Columbia and Minneapolis, which even the Herald has been forced to acknowledge the swiftest cruisers on the ocean We should think that such a humiliation as this would constrain it for a time at least, to treat American shipbuilders with common decency Maine's Workers.

Me have been permitted to look at the advance sheets of Hon S W Matthews' forthcoming industrial report, and we are allowed to present the following facts from the statistics showing the condition of the dotton and woolen industries in Maine. The state nonts may be re wed working time to 50 hours per week, which, laken together, amount reduction of about 11 per cent, in verking hours, of all the mills. The reduction in the working force amounts to per cent. In the mills new running, so that the total reduction in time and working force amounts to about 20 per cent, or an output of 80 per cent, of the tall especity of production. This does not include the Lincoln/mill in Lewiston nor the Kennebec River mill in Hallo well, both of which have been closed for everal years. The number of hunds phiployed in all the milts when working [full crews, is 15,604; the number now employed is 13,934 or 1 reduction of

The cut in wages seems to be general only two mills reporting the old rate of wages, and amounts to 10 per cent. recrews, so that the pay rolls show a loss in gross carnings of employes, through reduction in numbers, working hours, and wages, of 30 per cent | The production of sheetings, shirtings, satteens, luwns, twills, drillings, flanhels and print cloths holds up fairly well, but the de-pression strikes hard on fancy and lol-ored contons ginghams, duck, grain bags

State from which returns have been re-ceived is 12. There are some half a deven unimportant mills which have not yet been heard from, and whether these are now running or not is uncertain full capacity, employ 4 961 hands the first day of July eight of these mills were idle throwing 1 191 hands one of amployment thirteen other mills are running short creas throwing out 503 uployes making a total of 1 893 hands, or is per cent of the whole working force now idle. The number of hands at work is 1068, or 62 per cent One mill is running on short time and one is working overtime on a temporary order All the others are running on full time glq on Monday There are certain chinges in the tariff bill which are understood to be practically agreed upon by the coaterees. If the conferces did nothing else today, they came to one important agreement, or rather, were thoroughly agreed in that particular. They were unantmons that this shall be the final conferce and no report shall be made to the acceptive houses until the differences are adjusted in such a way as to secure the adoption of their recommendations, which means of course that the bill would be sunt to the President.

This, while apparently inconsistent with the expressed determination of the House managers to stand firm on their bill, is nevertheless a fuet and shows that the Stuation is critical and that a happy outcome rests with themselves alone. As a Democratic conferces realize that the Stuation is critical and that a happy outcome rests with themselves alone. As a Democratic index expressed it. "The conferces will not give up the attempt to read an agreement if they have to read in massalon until the fortion planch, when the fird Congress expires."

Westington, July 29 The torrith heat is adding the tariff compromisers. The extremists find their obstinacy wilfing with their shirt collars. Senator dones, who has bud the laboring our on the tariff on the Senate side ever since it lets the House, is Mairly confident that an agreement of some sort will be reached this week. Whether the debate which will then follow with the brief of protracted will depend upon the nature of the report by the conterges.

The Hay Grop It is an old and stale joke to say that the furmers are now "in the bay day of their prosperity," but it was never more tiue than to-day The crop of has being cut this year is something remarkable, though it is doubtless not true that owners of hay fields have been obliged to prop them up with timbers underneath to revent the burden of hay from breaking through the crust of the earth. One of the handsomest fields of hay which has been seen in this city for a long time, as related to us by that veteran furmer Mr. George W Spratt, was to yesterday morning on the Woodard farm, on Valley avenue, a portion of the immense hay f rm of Elijuh Smith.

Mr. Spratt says the field was a sight to behold, covered as it was with the evinced in the game in Brewer is that taken in the fortunes of the Bangor New England Langue club and the games in Bangor are well attended by people from this city. Mr Torrens, who resides in Holden, near East Eddington, met with a painfully resulting accident a few days since and one in which he parrowly and remarkably escaped serious injury. He was driving along the road in a hay rack, whon his horse was frightened by an approaching bloycle, and as the animal started Mr. Torrens slipped and fell, losing central of the horse, which shied suddenly and overturned the rack, and then continued on the run with it. Mr Torrens was caught under the rack and was drugged for some distance before the runaway was stopped, but escaped with an agly cut over one eye and a bad-ly bruised leg. He has been kept in the house for a few days by his injuries but expected to be out again yesterday. Fallure's head was bowed, no haurel wreath encircled it. Her face was wan and pain engraved. She had once been beau tiful and hopeful, but she had long since lost both hope and beauty. They stood to gether these two, waiting for an audience with the sovereign of the for lgn land. An old gray haired man came to them and saked their names. "I am Success." said Success advancing a stop forward and smiling at him and pointing to her harred we ath. He shook his head.

"Ah," he said." do not be too confident. Very often things go by opposites in this land. What you call success, we aften call fallure, what you call failure, we call success. It you see those two men waiting there? The one nearer to us was thought to be a good man in your world; the other was generally accounted bad. But here we call the bad man good, and the good man bad. That seems strange to you Well, then, look yonder. You considered that statesman to be sincers, lut we say he was insinctre. We chose as our port laureate a man at whom your world soff ed. Aye, and those flowers youder, for us they have a fragrant charm. We love, to see them near us. But you do not even take the travel to pluck them from the heages where they grow in rich profusion. So, you see what we value as a treasure you do not vulto at all."
